NISC Raises Funds While Having Fun at LiveSTRONG Charity Event

Lake Saint Louis, Mo. and Mandan, N.D., October 20, 2009 –National Information Solutions Cooperative (NISC) celebrated life, community and family during this year's LiveSTRONG charity event.

On Thursday, Oct. 1, more than 760 employees from both NISC's Lake Saint Louis and Mandan locations participated in games and contests to raise awareness and funds for a serious issue: cancer. By day's end, through the games, contests and food sales, NISC employees raised nearly $15,000 to benefit the Lance Armstrong Foundation and the American Cancer Society.

The NISC LIVESTRONG Day event was organized as a one-day event to raise awareness and funds for the fight against cancer. Through the tremendous efforts of the employees in Mandan and Lake Saint Louis, the fundraiser turned into an all-day celebration of life.

"This day will help us learn and understand the importance of true gratitude for our lives, our families and each other...To me, LIVESTRONG reminds us to embrace every moment of life as a gift." said Vern Dosch, NISC's CEO and President.

Employees seized the day by taking turns at various events to raise money for the cancer fight, even going so far as pie tosses at the vice presidents, drenching the chief operating officer in a splash tank and competing against one another in many different carnival-like activities. The day concluded with a barbecue and family walk.
